

Jesus - A Spiritual Guide to Peace - Peace and Goodwill to all Mankind.

In the beginning was God. Without form. God created form. Form should be able to form. Form must be separate in its own form. So there was a war in heaven and the anti-thesis, self-righteousness, was cast out. Form was created. God created free will. Man got tricked into judgement rather than hope. Right and wrong instead of better. Jesus authored the reconciliation of the entirety of creation, changing the paradigm from war to peace, to re-create Peace. The lesson is self-righteousness brings closed minds, suffering and war. But there is the good news that we can learn war no more and rest in Peace together.

1. Peace is the vision. Goodwill the mechanics to achieving a one world Peace.

2. We can bring the joy of learning into our world instead of bringing more pain and suffering. We can show by example rather than punish wrongdoing. Coaching can replace punishment. We can replace the brutality with civility and stop perpetuating the violence. I was punished to teach me a lesson so I'm going to punish you to teach you a lesson and the cycle goes on.

3. Punishment tends to stir unforgiveness, retaliation and the rebellious brute.

4. Peace and goodwill, Love, our acts of human kindness, starting with forgiveness, and ending in better, is far more enticing and inspiring than the philosophy under which we currently live; Learning obedience to law by the things that we suffer, so we can end the suffering we launch upon each other and replace it with goodwill and care, build better respectfully mutual relationships and bring a bigger peace dimension.

5. Peace and Grace, forgiveness and empathy, because with empathy comes understanding and the know-how how to reconcile and the wisdom of how to make peace, by coming out of the shadows of right from wrong and out into the light of another option, the better light and option of better.
6. We can learn how not to become offended as equally as we learn not to offend and take away the sins in our world, taking more responsibility for the consequences of our own actions regarding our own offence level levels. We can build resilience and patience, rather than intolerance issuing consequence.
7. We can come out of the darkness of living in the shadows of right and wrong and come out into the light of better. Being willing to alter the traditional equation of consideration, from only considering right from wrong to also to include considering better as well, we receive God's gift of hope, open the door to new opportunity, and the possibility of a better world for us all, peaceable and kind, rather than rebel and brute, coached and guided more so than victimised and punished. Peace is more than compliance. Education is better than indoctrination because it teaches technique rather than style, education teaches how to think not what to think because Relationship is greater than regulation.
8. We can develop further an equal opportunity for all world by developing better an equal access to education world for all.
9. We can be global citizens under one banner of Peace.

10. God answers the call of hope and the call of hope asks what's better? God Answers. Manifested in Faith. Peace and Goodwill to all Mankind is the completed Mission Statement of Jesus Christ, and with all my heart I trust God will complete that what He began, in us all, He rebuilds the Kingdom of Peace with His Goodwill and it is in our acts of kindness the gluing of us all together again, the bond of Peace. Peace is the Banner of Jesus Christ, and Jesus is the blood coverer of all sin. All is forgiven all can forgive and all have access. And Grace all the more, because the accuser knows his time is short and tries to uncover with finger pointing and so called righteous judgements based upon People's own necessary burdens and necessary requirements for meeting their own personal internal law that they hold, that People base upon their own understanding, and Grace gets shot to pieces by judgment, unknowingly mistaken as in and since Acts 15:28, (Holy Spirit is no seems right in my experience) so the list just goes on demanding more and more, imposing more and more law relying and referring back to the traditional laws written of men, and falling back in the OT philosophy that says we must learn obedience by the things that we suffer, the very way Jesus come to take away. So humanity still remains for now in the peace policy of evil, imposing peace by force, to which the Holy Spirit is bringing to end, all the more with Grace.
